DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/29/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Trinh et al. (US 2004/0244413).

Trinh et al. disclose an adhesive bag device comprising polymer sheet 505; adhesive tape 541 along the marginal edges 527; see figure 20. Double sided adhesive tape can be used to reuse the bag along the marginal edges; see page 4, paragraph 52.

The sheet is adapted to be folded over in order to adhere to the marginal edges. This bag structure could be used for a stator bar leak test.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Trinh et al. (US 2004/0244413) in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA).

The invention to Trinh et al. is capable of performing ~~the~~ a stator bar leak test, however does not disclose the specific composition of materials and/or dimensions as claimed in claims 2-8 (at page 4, paragraph 54 Trinh et al. disclose various alternates including nonporous plastic film). The examiner takes OFFICIAL NOTICE that

1) an acrylic adhesive on a polypropylene substrate is a well known form of double sided adhesive tape; and

2) polyvinyl chloride film is a well known form of a nonporous plastic film.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the use of an acrylic adhesive on a polypropylene substrate and a polyvinyl chloride film in the invention to Trinh et al. for forming the bag.

Regarding the dimensional limitations of claims 4-6 and 8, applicant failed to traverse the examiner's previous assertion of Official Notice (see Final Rejection paragraph 3).

6. Alternatively, claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Klawitter (US 4,918,834) in view of Trinh et al. (US 2004/0244413).

Klawitter discloses a bag for covering a stator coil/bar; see figure 1. The bag does not comprise double sided tape on each marginal edge. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the bag of Klawitter as provided by Beck in order to provide for an economic and disposable bag for covering a stator bar.

Regarding claims 2-8, see above paragraph.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to all claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Note that a limitation directed to an intended use of an apparatus or a process requires a structural difference or a manipulative difference between the claimed invention and the prior art. See In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 938, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963); In re Sinex, 309 F.2d 488, 492, 135 USPQ 302, 305 (CCPA 1962); In re Schreiber, 128 F.3d 1473, 1477, 44 USPQ2d 1429, 1431 (Fed.Cir. 1997).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
